Civic Center

Secret Fender Stratocaster (aka Frankenstrat) is fence of scathing beauty with kill-prone notes that cross 3 AM North Vegas landscapes in deep city semi-urban streets leading home. Stars fly electric sharp-focus onto old boulevard sidewalk, carry stories and history decades beyond Sunset & Cherokee, from glorious legend indestructible. Nights of macro world, thousands of dreams and late night coffee, with legions of co-existent psycho-fires, each knowing the sound of endless power sneakily silently going by windows, brazen in its pressing of never-forgotten noise and empire, cruising dark roads and eruption chimneys to a quiet old bed.

Guitar throws lightning and lotus in cascade of adventure through moonless and cloudless ceiling.

End.
